PEOPLE POWER WINS THE DAY IN BLOCKING NEW PREMISES Post Office is staying put

PEOPLE power have stopped the proposed relocation of Axminster Post Office.

Post Office Ltd has confirmed that it will not carry out the proposed move to Martin's (McColl's) in Victoria Place.

The proposal triggered a flood of objections as many individuals and organisations (including the local branch of The Guide Dogs For The Blind Association) felt the narrow pavement and busy road outside Martin's was a bad and dangerous combination.

The public consultation closed on November 6th and decisions are usually announced about a month later.

This one dragged on for three months precisely, though.

Office has listened to concerns raised during public consultation about the proposal to relocate Axminster Post Office and we have decided not to proceed with this specific plan.

"Customers would have benefitted from a modern retail environment and significantly longer opening hours.

"However, concerns were raised about the new location.

"During public consultation we received over 60 individual responses from customers and local representatives, mainly opposing the proposed move.

"We also met with members of East Devon District Council, the town council and the mayor to discuss the proposal in more detail.

"Consumer Futures, the independent statutory consumer watchdog for the Post Office network, also raised significant concerns about the proposed move.

"The main feedback focussed on the location of the proposed premises which is on a bend, adjacent to a main road and the narrow width of the pavement at the entrance to the store, which would impact on access to Post Office services for customers using mobility scooters and wheelchairs, or those with prams and pushchairs.

"After careful consideration we have decided not to proceed with the move.

Accessibility issues

"The branch will continue to operate from its existing location for the time being. "Any new proposed location would be subject to a further six-week period public consultation."

Post Office Regional Network Manager Will Russell added: "We listened to concerns raised during public consultation and decided against the move because of issues over accessibility.

"We want to modernise our Post Offices and to offer longer more convenient opening hours, but the new location was not the right location."

Sub-postmasters Roger and Linda Lawrence were looking to disperse with their Post Office work.

In a joint statement they said: "We are disappointed by the news and that an opportunity to secure a long-term future of the post office has been lost.

"Axminster residents deserve to have a town centre post office and hopefully another opportunity will occur.

"For the time being, we are examining the options left open to us."

A McColl's spokesperson said the company did not wish to comment.

Sector residents up in arms

SECTOR Lane residents have branded the closure of the Lyme Road junction as "unacceptable".

Whilst pedestrians are unaffected, motorists are subjected to a diversion said to be six miles long.

Signs on site say the road closure is for a maximum of three weeks from January 20th, but a fourth week of work to connect the Devonshire Homes development just off Sector Lane to the water system was set to start on Monday.

At the time of going to press it was unclear if the work had over-run or if the signage was wrong.

One Sector Lane resident, who did not wish to be named, said: "I am appalled that this development

Furzbrake - too windy for the players to stand!

BEER ALBION'S Furzbrake ground, one of the highest in the country, and notorious for being playable when other grounds are ruled out, failed to beat the hurricane winds blowing in from the English channel.

The Fishermen and visiting Premier opponents Colyst Valley could not even stand up straight in the teeth of the gale, and referee John Furness had no choice but to call the game off.

The Furzbrake surface was perfectly playable, but neither players or spectators could believe the ferocity of the wind and sought the sanctuary of the clubhouse.

Referee Furness made his decision some time before kick-off which gave some of Beer's hardy followers the chance to make the half hour journey over to FENITON where their second team were playing a Division Five game.

In fact this turned out to be the only game played in the entire Fresha Devon & Exeter League.

Feniton won the match 3-0 with all three goals coming in the first-half.

Post Office to stay for the time being

PEOPLE power have stopped the proposed relocation of Axminster Post Office.

Post Office Ltd has confirmed that it will not carry out the proposed move to Martin's (McColl's) in Victoria Place.

The proposal triggered a flood of objections as many individuals and organisations (including the local branch of The Guide Dogs For The Blind Association) felt the narrow pavement and busy road outside Martin's was a bad and dangerous combination.

The public consultation closed on November 6th and decisions are usually announced about a month later.

This one dragged on for three months precisely, though.

On Thursday February 6th Post Office Ltd made the following statement: "The Post Office has listened to concerns raised during public consultation about the proposal to relocate Axminster Post Office and we have decided not to proceed with this specific plan.

"Customers would have benefitted from a modern retail environment and significantly longer opening hours. However, concerns were raised about the new location.

From the editor's chair More power to the people

WHEN unpopular changes are floated by large conglomerates, quangos or public bodies with a promise that we, the great unwashed, will be consulted, how many times do we throw up our hands and say: 'It's a foregone conclusion, the decision's already made.'

I must admit that was my initial reaction – and I am sure there are others of you out there who had similar thoughts – when Post Office Ltd promised to listen to the views of the public when they came up with the ludicrous proposal to move Axminster Post Office from its spacious site in West Street to Martin's Newsagents, situated on the most dangerous corner in town.

The longer the consultation progress went on, the more I and many others were convinced that the move was going to be sanctioned.

Surprise then when we heard towards the end of last week that Post Office Ltd had, in fact, had listened to the objections and rejected the plan, quoting accessibility problems at the new location.

For the time being, Axminster Post Office will continue to operate from West Street whilst the search for a more practical alternative goes on.

There is, of course, a lesson to be learnt here. We are so bludgeoned into accepting the unacceptable, we should never roll over without making our views known. This is why Axminster needs to get angry and co-ordinate opposition to another ludicrous idea being forced upon the town – the retention of the former Busy Bee shop next to Webster's Garage.

Come on Axminster. You won the battle over the Post Office; now it's time to get serious about making sure that those interim and much lauded plans for Websters are not sunk by more bureaucratic bilge.

◆ SOMEONE, I can't remember who, once wrote: "Adversity isn't an obstacle that we need to get around to resume our life. It's part of our life."

Those unfortunate souls on the Somerset Levels, and in other sodden areas of the West Country and further afield so bombarded by the elements in recent weeks, would no doubt associate themselves with such a view.

How useless the rest of us feel as they struggle to save their homes and livelihoods. They live with adversity every day.

EDDC to quit Knowle for Exeter Skypark

SKYPARK Exeter is set to be the new location for East Devon District Council offices when it headquarters move from Sidmouth.

The proposed move must be approved by full council, after EDDC's Cabinet unanimously backed the idea when it met on Wednesday of last week to discuss a shortlist of five locations.

If approved, officers will be asked to carry out further research into the viability of the move with a view to be fully operational at the new Skypark headquarters at the end of 2016.

The Knowle complex in Sidmouth will be sold and the marketing of the site will start promptly after approval.

The proposed relocation was debated behind closed doors because the Local Government Act 1972 permits the exclusion of press and public if issues of an exempt nature, like commercially sensitive information, will be discussed.

EDDC, however, staged a media briefing the following morning when leader Paul Diviani said there had been "a rather lively, lengthy and well-informed debate".

He added: "Skypark appears to offer a more secure future, delivering a new build designed to exact requirements and cost. The location represents a key emerging employment and commercial development location in the district."

Councillor Ray Bloxham (portfolio holder for corporate business) stressed that Cranbrook's forthcoming railway station will only be half a mile away and that a bus service currently passing Skypark will be diverted to serve stops within Skypark once it is completed.

Councillor David Cox (portfolio holder for finance) added: "We are working hard to maintain our frontline services in face of ongoing financial challenges."

SEATON

Town pulls together to combat high seas

AS VIOLENT storms battered Seaton last week, sandbags were the order of the day as residents and traders wanted to protect their properties.

Seaton Mayor, Councillor Gaynor Sedgwick, took the lead and ordered in the empty bags and the Town Clerk and members of the town council staff filled the bags with sand – kindly donated by Tesco – and delivered them.

By Friday evening over 100 bags had been delivered and a 24-hour emergency service was set up for anyone worried about what the weekend might bring.

Councillor Sedgwick is calling an extra meeting of the town council to discuss last week's storms and to see what lessons can be learned.

A new emergency plan will then be put in place to cover any future emergencies in the town.

Councillor Sedgwick said: "The town council was quick to react to the needs of people when it came to sandbags and I would publicly like to thank the council staff for all their efforts."

"There was a lot of damage after the Wednesday storm and this will all have to be looked at in due course.

"Our priority was our residents and traders and if anyone needs help they should contact us."

At the height of Wednesday's storm the sea breached the protective wall along the seafront by two or three feet and floodwater reached the town's pedestrian area before receding.

OTTERY St MARY Council stick with private meetings

OTTERY St Mary town councillors will continue to meet privately with developers at the pre-application stage, after they voted in favour of introducing a new policy on the issue.

A paper prepared by Councillor Martin Thurgood and recommended by the council's Planning Committee suggested ways to make discussions with developers more transparent, and was praised by councillors at the full town council meeting on February 3rd.

But the council rejected an amendment to the paper, proposed by Councillor Roger Giles, to allow members of the press and public to attend pre-application meetings.

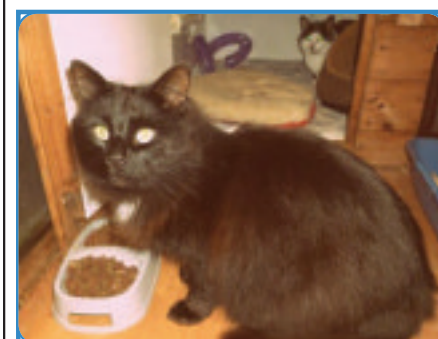

Members of the town council met privately with Persimmon Homes in December to discuss potential development in West Hill.

Notes from the meeting were later published on the council's website, but some members of the public expressed concerns about discussions being held behind closed doors.

Mayor Glyn Dobson insisted that the advice from the East Devon District Council Monitoring Officer Denise Lyons, who met with councillors in December, was that holding private pre-application meetings with developers was an appropriate course of action.

A statement from Mrs Lyons, read out at the meeting by the town clerk, said: "I think it would be confusing for the public if the early stage plans, which are likely to change, and are often put on hold, were shown in public as a step prior to the actual public consultation process."

Members of the public voiced their concerns at the meeting, following the decision.

■ APPROVAL: THE Mayor of Axminster, Councillor Jeremy Walden, was impressed with the plans for the proposed new skatepark in Axminster when they went on show at the Guildhall last week

Axminster is 'going places', mayor tells skateboarders

The building of a £160,000 skatepark in Axminster is proof that the town is growing and going places, according to the Mayor, Councillor Jeremy Walden.

Detailed plans for the facility were showcased in the Guildhall on Friday.

Those present were told that the Axminster Skatepark Steering Group will set up a charitable incorporated organisation which is not a company.

The existing skatepark at Cloakham Lawn Sports Centre will be turned into a state-of-the-art facility in memory of Tom Chubb.

Tom was a regular user of the Cloakham skatepark, but died in a car accident on the A358 at Musbury at the age of 18 on October 31st in 2012.

Axminster Skatepark Fund was formed shortly after his death, including both grown-ups and youngsters, to see the project through.

Tom's mum Eve and his brother Ed are part of the group and, along with fellow members, they have visited other skateparks and done a lot of research behind the scenes to reach this phase of the project.

The winning design was submitted by a company called Maverick Industries, and is concrete-based and should be virtually maintenance-free for up to 30 years

So far, a string of fundraisers have been held to raise a total of £5,000.

Fundraising at a local level will continue, and applications to grant-giving bodies are being prepared.

Councillor Walden formally opened the meeting and said: "The skatepark shows that Axminster is developing and growing, and we want young people to be part of that – it is your town."

It is hoped the new skatepark will be up and running within 18 months to two years.

Don't 'invite' thieves

AXMINSTER police have renewed a plea with motorists not to 'invite' thieves.

Cars parked in and around Trinity Hill are regularly targeted and PCSO Andy Trott said: "There has been several thefts in the car parks where dog walkers are leaving their vehicles.

"I would like to remind people not to leave personal items on display such as handbags mobile phones and laptop computers. It only takes seconds to break a window and get into a vehicle."

Sector residents angry over diversion named, said: "I am appalled that this development was ever allowed to go ahead in the view of the disruption this is causing residents by the complete closure of Sector Lane at the junction with Lyme Road for three weeks.

"A six-mile diversion is in place which involves driving the length of Sector Lane to Crewkerne Road, which in places is very bendy and single track, and is being used by enormous building delivery lorries as the only route to the site.

"This is very dangerous due to the speed these lorries are travelling at.

"Several residents are elderly resulting in them having to use their cars to reach appointments and shopping in Axminster, which means a 12-mile round trip.

"This is totally unacceptable and heaven help us if anyone needed the emergency services urgently.

"My husband's life was saved by the prompt arrival within 15 minutes of paramedics a couple of years ago, how long would it take them to reach us now?"

She added that a contractor set to work on her house decided to delay the work because the detour would be too time-consuming should he need to go and get additional material or equipment in Axminster.

Town councillor Bryan Wheeler lives in Sector Lane and said he has been contacted by several angry residents.

He said: "I'm quite frankly disgusted. It's a big detour taking people to possibly the worst junction [A35 Hunters Lodge] we have."

Councillor Wheeler admits the work has to be done, but has an issue with the length of the road closure.

He explained: "I accept the work is necessary, but how about working on Saturdays?"

A South West Water spokesperson replied: "We do appreciate that the road closure is inconvenient for road users, but we do not usually carry out engineering work at weekends as we are mindful of the extra noise nuisance this would cause those living nearby."

The road closure is approved by Devon County Council, and a spokesperson explained: "If the road is traffic sensitive or has restricted working hours in a weekday, we can direct them to work weekends.

"However, Sector Lane and Lyme Road are only traffic sensitive between May and September.

"Road works by utility companies are discussed long before they are programmed, in order to determine the best way to carry out the work."

The length of a road closure was also a hot topic in the town in August last year when tailbacks frustrated motorists during a part of closure of Chard Street

The Devon County Council spokesperson explained the decision-making process by saying: "The timescale is left to the utility company to decide as they will have considered what methods, specialist equipment and manpower is needed.

"It is a statutory requirement for the utility company to consult with local stakeholders about their proposed work.

"The consultees consist of residents and businesses directly affected, and local parish / town / district councils.

"Devon County Council informs emergency services and the bus companies on approval of the application.

"However, the final say rests with Devon County Council on whether the application is approved or not."

■ MORE than 20 cyclists turned up in Seaton for the first Axe Valley Pedallers (AVP) ride of the year last month.

The floods had receded enough to allow the group to follow the route of the Stopline Way along Cownhayne Lane, passing through Boshill Cross and Colyford.

After pausing to regroup at the bridge over the rivers Coly and Umborne, both in full flow, it was time to leave the flat valley roads and make the serious heart pounding climb up Colyton Hill.

Electric bikes are welcome on AVP rides and club chairman Joanna Beckett has one.

Even the strongest AVP riders had difficulty keeping in contact with her as she cruised serenely to the top of Colyton Hill, arriving hardly out of breath.

Club secretary Robert Watson said: "It took some time, after such a climb, for the whole group to come back together before setting off in the direction of Beer, but the views over the Axe estuary are spectacular at this point and no one was impatient to get going. The final stage of the journey took the riders across the A3052 at Stafford Cross, past the pig farms and Bovey House to the top of the hill above Branscombe, then turning east for a fast descent into Beer, passing Beer Quarry Caves and keeping a wary eye out for potholes."

Pedallers on the road again

The ride ended at club member Mr Watson's house in Beer Road, where mulled wine and baked potatoes were on offer as a reward for completing the first ride of the year.

Details of future Sunday rides are available at axevalleypedallers.org.uk

■ RENOWNED ARTIST: The late Michael Morgan in his studio

Art world mourns Michael Morgan

THE West Country art world is in mourning following the death of renowned artist Michael Morgan.

Mr Morgan, lived in the village of Churchill, near Axminster. He passed away on February 3rd following a long illness at the age of 85.

His immensely popular art works have become prized possessions for collectors and

by Kevin Fahey

Mike Lambert, the owner of Marine House at Beer gallery where Morgan's work was exhibited, said his death will be deeply felt.

"It is very sad news although not totally unexpected as unfortunately he has been ill for some time," said Mr Lambert. "Michael Morgan was the region's top artist by a country mile and in the art world he was a celebrity."

The pair developed a very close working and personal relationship having come together when Mr Lambert and his wife Rosemary opened the Marine House at Beer gallery.

"Hearing of his death ends 17 years of close friendship which developed between Michael, his wife Jill, and us," added Mr Lambert.

"There are many good times to reflect on: his bemusement on first meeting in 1997 and being invited to exhibit at the shortly to be opened Marine House at Beer gallery in out of the way Beer. He thought we were out of our minds!

"There were many convivial lunches in a little Japanese restaurant in Dorset; enlisting his expert guidance in selecting the John Blockley prize at the RI and enjoying his pride in his wonderful garden."

"Michael was a very warm and generous person and did a lot for other people. Our staff loved it when he used to pop into the gallery.

"These are just a few of the host of pleasurable events and time spent with Michael and Jill which will always remain in our memory."

The funeral will be held at the East Devon Crematorium in Whimple (EX5 2PT) on Thursday, February 13th at 1pm.

He is survived by his wife Jill and sons James and Adam.

Police: Be alert for pub thieves

PUB and club goers in East Devon have been asked to be on the alert for thieves.

In a message issued through Mid and East Devon Community Safety Partnership, police say thefts of mobile phones and purses from pubs and clubs across the district are on the up.

The statement didn't include any statistics, but Rural East Devon Inspector Simon Weare said: "We are concerned about this trend and we ask that people who are out enjoying themselves keep a close eye on their property at all times.

Unfortunately there are people in our communities who are always looking for an opportunity to steal. We live in a low crime area but still have to take care of our belongings."

Gerry Moore of Mid and East Devon Community Safety Partnership added: "The advice to people using licensed premises is to take care of their property and make sure that coats and handbags, etc, containing purses and phones and other property are never left unattended."

to reflect the history or a site or its importance in the community.

"Having a strong involvement with Axminster AFC, which has included not only sponsoring the team but also in the relocation of the team and developing a new clubhouse, Devonshire Homes thought it fitting that the new housing development should be called Amberside."

The first phase will deliver 43 homes, and the overall development is for 71 homes.

Teenager is joining crew on Caribbean adventure voyage

A TEENAGER from Axminster will spend part of her gap year as a volunteer in the Caribbean.

Kathleen Wheatley, 17, will become a TS Pelican crew member on a journey from Weymouth in September, organised by a charity named Adventure Under Sail.

Kathleen, who studies biology, English literature and classical civilisation at Richard Huish College in Taunton, explained: "The voyage spans three months, one of which is spent volunteering in the Caribbean.

"Past projects include working with local schools and providing them with English books, showing them British culture and teaching the children how to sail.

"Sailing with the Pelican makes us members of the crew.

"Our responsibilities will increase with the voyage - we will be expected to take watches, divide chores and help the ship sail across the Atlantic Ocean.

"On the voyage we will learn seamanship: safety onboard, sailing, navigation and working as a team."

Looking for sponsors

But the project comes at a cost, and Kathleen said: "I must raise between £6,500 and £7,000 to cover the fees, living expenses and a flight back to Britain.

"For every £200 raised, a total of £20 will be donated to a few chosen charities - Survival International, Heart of Borneo and Greenpeace."

Kathleen, who hopes to become a helicopter pilot with the Armed Forces, would be very grateful for donations and said: "I would deeply appreciate any sponsorship or donations made, and will include a message of gratitude on the website and Facebook."

UNEMPLOYED people can learn to cook on a budget by taking a free course at Health and Local Food for Families (HALFF) in Axminster.

The charity has been given a grant by The Devon Community Foundation to run the course.

During the six-session course, participants will learn about basic cooking techniques, meal planning and budgeting, inexpensive recipes, savvy shopping and how to make the most of leftovers.

Bryan Wheeler, who attended a similar and recent course called Learn to Cook Healthily, said: "It is difficult to quantify the enormity of what HALFF has done to help me, and it's made a difference to my weekly food bill too."

The course is free and starts on Tuesday February 25th, running from 10.30am until 12.30pm in the Methodist Church Hall in Lyme Road.

Further dates are: March 4th, March 11th, March 18th, March 25th and April 1st.

SEATON'S sea defences were breached on Wednesday morning as waves crashed over the sea wall at high tide.

Waves were clearing the wall by two or three feet at the height of high tide and left a trail of debris all over the area.

Police were quick to respond and close off roads leading to the seafront area, but even a constabulary vehicle parked on the roundabout to stop traffic at Fisherman's Gap was forced to move as the waves crashed over the sea wall and sent debris flying past it.

A seafront stone flowerbed was smashed to pieces by the force of the waves and the main seafront road became flooded to a level of several inches. Pebbles and debris was carried over the seawall and deposited over a wide area.

Water and debris reached as far as the junction of Harbour Road and Marine place, stopping just short of the town's pedestrian area.

Trader and journalist Tony Woodman watched the incident unfold and said: "It was quite astonishing to see the waves crashing over the sea wall.

I think it fair to say we were all a little concerned. The water eventually stopped about 20 yards from our shop.

"Many people criticise the sea wall, mainly for its ugly appearance, but it certainly saved the centre of Seaton this time.

"Without it we could have had a six feet wall of water heading towards the town centre."

Art competition to mark World War I anniversary

RENOWNED art gallery Marine House at Beer has linked up with the organisers of the World War I commemoration events in the village to launch a nationwide competition for young artists, writes KEVIN FAHEY.

Michael Lambert, who owns the gallery with wife Rosemary, will provide cash prizes and the chance for the top ten art works to be exhibited in the Marine House at Beer before a public vote is taken to determine the winner.

The competition will be open to young people aged 18 and under and the theme will be: A Village Remembers – World War I.

"Peter (Anderson, who is working with Richard Scott to stage the commemoration events) came to see me about supporting an art competition and we were only too delighted to help," said Mr Lambert.

"Here at Marine House we are always looking at ways to support and promote artists and we thought this was an unusual idea and the First World War should be an inspiration for young artists to produce something to commemorate that tumultuous event.

"I know there is a lot of amazing talent out there and we are looking forward to hearing from them."

Mr Anderson said he hoped that the original photos of Beer men marching off to war a 100 years ago would provide a source of inspiration to young artists.

"Those images will be available on the Marine House website and we are looking for young artists to use them as a source of inspiration," said Mr Anderson.

"It could be a replica of the march through the village with cheering crowds or it could be heartbreaking family farewells but ultimately it is up the artist on where they find their inspiration."

Anderson has already contacted four local senior schools – Axe Valley, Colyton Grammar, Sidmouth College and Woodroffe – but with the competition being promoted on the Marine House website admitted it was only logical to open up the competition to young artists all over the country – or even further afield!

"Any medium can be used and we just ask that the artwork is submitted as a JPEG by July 19th," added Mr Anderson.

"A shortlist of the top ten works will be selected and then shown in the gallery. The public can then vote either in person or via the internet, for their favourite and the winning piece of art will then be hung in the Mariners' Hall."

The winning artist will receive a cash prize of £150 with £100 to the runner-up and £50 for third.

Chinese delights at Seaton school

YEAR Two pupils at Seaton Primary School tucked into Chinese food when the owner and staff of a local restaurant visited.

The children have been learning about China this term and got a real taste when visited by Hong Kong Chinese Restaurant in Seaton.

The staff brought a meal for each child consisting of vegetable spring rolls, prawn crackers and fortune cookies.

William, the owner of the restaurant, talked about the Chinese New Year and explained to them which animal of the Zodiac they were.

Teacher Lucy Wilkinson of Seaton Primary School said: "The children and teachers had a wonderful morning and would like to thank William and his team for his generosity."

A TOTAL of four crimes were reported in the Colyton area during January 2014.

This compares to three crimes in December 2013 and five crimes in January 2013.

The incidents included the following:

A Public Order Offence was made on January 6th when a youth threatened another youth in Colyvale. The incidents was delatth with by way of restorative justice;

Speaking on the whole of the Seaton Rural policing area, which includes Colyton, PC Stephen Speariett said: "2014 has started off with the second lowest January total of six crimes and with only three parishes seeing any crime at all. In four of the crimes, a suspect has been identified.

"As of January 24th I have now taken over responsibility for Seaton Town from PC Norton, who has now joined the response team at Sidmouth. Both Seaton Town and Seaton Rural will now be covered by PCSO Slater, PCSO McGauley and myself. We have also been joined by Acting Sergeant Sinker who will be overseeing both Seaton and Axminster.

"The team would like to pass on our thanks to PC Norton for his hard work over the last three years, during which he has made a number of notable achievements. I am sure that this is shared by the community of Seaton town."

Grammar school student qualifies for biathlon final

COLYTON Grammar School student Grace Haskins has qualified for the final of the Schools Biathlon National Championship 2014.

This event is open to school-age children and teachers, and includes a run and swim with distances varying depending on the child's age.

Year 9 student Grace, aged 13, has competed in the event on a number of occasions but this is the first year she has qualified for the final.

The final will be held at the prestigious Olympic swimming complex in London, which is now open to the public following the 2012 games, on April 5th.

Grace (pictured right), from Forton near Chard, in Somerset, is a very keen athlete and swims at Chard and District Swimming Club, where she has achieved county qualifying times in a number of events. She also plays netball at Honiton Netball Club and for school, hockey for school and attends goes to Honiton Air Cadets and represents them in swimming, hockey, netball and cross country.

Grace also qualified and ran in the Schools Devon County Cross Country race in January at The Big Sheep in Devon.

But her talents are not just in sport; Grace plays principal baritone horn with Lyme Regis Town Band and won their Chairman's Award for the young player of the year in December 2013.

She said she is very excited to be going to the biathlon final this year, as she has worked really hard to qualify and it is a great opportunity to swim in a world class venue.

Keeping it clean at Caterpillars

COLYTON Caterpillars Pre-School was visited by environmental health technical officer from East Devon District Council Kate Parffrey, last week to teach them about the importance of personal hygiene and health.

The children were taught why it is important to wash their hands effectively by using Glitter-Bug Lotion. They then held their hands under an infra-red light to identify the areas that they were not cleaning well enough.

The children also learnt the importance of brushing their teeth, eating healthily and keeping themselves clean and fit.

Jumble sale raises £700 for hall

THE biannual jumble sale at Colyford Memorial Hall was well attended on Saturday despite the inclement weather. Shoppers queued for some time before the hall opened and inside they found a wide range of goods available for sale, including good quality clothes, books, bric-a-brac, furniture, glass, pottery, pictures and carpets including some fine Chinese rugs. The sale raised £700 for hall funds and will be used to continue the upgrading of the hall, which is now one of the best equipped in East Devon. Simon Card, chairman of the Colyford Memorial Hall Trustees, thanked the team of helpers for all their hard work in collecting and selling the jumble, particularly Katie Sivier who organised the fundraising event. Pictured above helpers Dave Chubb, Albert Nicholson, Margaret Nicholson, Simon Card, Katie Sivier and Pat Chubb.

Seaton club marks 40 years

THE Seaton and District Men's Probus Club welcomed Derek Stevens to their January meeting, when he gave an interesting and amusing talk on "Memories of Wartime".

Derek was evacuated from Croydon as part of a contingent of 3,000 young evacuees to West Dorset/East Devon, arriving at Seaton Junction just after the Second World War broke out. This was a huge change for the youngsters who had been taken out of their home environment, but also for the host families. Derek mentioned newspapers of the time, which indicated that not everyone was pleased with this influx of strangers.

He also told of the involvement with the many American troops based in the area – eggs could be exchanged for gum and candy bars! Interestingly, he recounted that Joe Kennedy Junior was based at Dunkeswell, losing his

Customs officer speaks at Axminster Probus

AMONGST the ranks of civil servants, the tax inspector doesn't rate very highly but the customs officer sits even lower in the public perception.

So when David Baldock stood up to address Axminster Probus Club at its February meeting it might have been assumed that he would not be greeted with great enthusiasm. Fortunately, David quickly opened his listeners' minds with his amusing and informative anecdotes.

It was the Romans who first slapped a tax on imports – a practice which has been followed with considerable enthusiasm ever since while ever more inventive ways have been sought to widen the scope.

By 1200 wool exports were being taxed and customs officers had to weigh the wool for export. They could only do this by day so the smugglers shipped out at night and have continued to hone their practices to the present day.

As time went on, more and more ways were found to extract revenue; such items as the Hearth Tax and the Window Tax were imposed and it was resolved that the policing of that would fall to Customs and Excise.

As other taxes were imposed in similarly unlikely ways it fell to C&E to monitor those too until they almost had a monopoly where indirect taxes were concerned.

Originally, it was the King who received the revenue. Charles I followed the rule but decreed that Nell Gwynn should receive £500 per month before he received his share.

Locally, Jack Rattenbury was a noted, though not always successful, smuggler while the Parson at Budleigh stocked his church with contraband and the dissenters meeting place was built with a special roof for a similar purpose.

The Axminster Probus Club for retired and semi-retired business and professional men meets at the Kilmington Cafe, Bistro & Motel on the A35 Gammons Hill on the first Tuesday of each month. For further information ring 01460 220528.

Club learns mixed media skills

Axminster Art Society started its new year with a capacity audience to watch local artist Lynda White demonstrating in mixed media.

Lynda introduced the subject by saying that this art form had become very popular in recent years, among buyers as well as artists, and was now totally acceptable in the art world.

She described several ways in which mixed media techniques can be combined but for the purpose of the demonstration she narrowed this down to oil pastels and watercolour over a collaged base.

She started with her source material, a photograph of a scene overlooking Beer supplemented with close up reference material of teasles, which were to be a dominant feature of the foreground.

She then showed the audience a sketch she had produced as a guide, loosely based on the reference material. She had already prepared a watercolour board base - this base is stronger than watercolour paper and better able to bear the weight of the collage material.

Lynda had pasted structured shapes, representing a house and a hedgeline, and a random shape in textured paper to represent fields and trees, which would give an interesting result when covered with pastel. She then applied the colour using oil pastel for the teasles and swathes of very liquid watercolour which were allowed to blend randomly.

The wax of the pastels repelled the watercolour giving an interesting result, especially effective was the halo around the teasles. After the tea break the work had dried out enough for further applications of pastel, bringing together a well conceived finished work.

The art society's next guest artist will be Michael Lawes, demonstrating "Cityscapes at Night" using pastels, on Wednesday, February 19th at Musbury Village Hall from 2.15pm. Further details can be found on the art society's website.

Axminster Phoenix ladies pay tribute to much-loved member

MEMBERS of Axminster Phoenix Ladies Club paid tribute to Beryl Moulding at their recent meeting and observed a minute's silence.

Formerly chairman of Axminster WI and subsequently one of the Phoenix Club's original members when it was formed 13 years ago, Beryl was a much-loved member who will be greatly missed by all who knew her.

Her recitations and poems were a constant source of amusement and she exuded great kindness and merriment.

The chairman informed the meeting that members had attended her recent funeral and a donation had been sent to one of the local charities selected by the Moulding family. They also send their deepest sympathy to Andrew, Mary, Jill and Robert at this sad time.

During the meeting a cheque for £300 was presented to Vee Driscoll, who accepted it on behalf of Read Easy. Formed in Bridport and now operating in Beaminster and Lyme Regis as a voluntary support group, the group offers a one-to-one scheme for adults who either cannot read or lack confidence, through trained coaches.

Sessions take place in quiet, discreet venues on a weekly basis and all books and materials are supplied. There is no charge for the support, all that is required is commitment.

The donation from Phoenix Club will be used to purchase some of the books required, prior to Read Easy becoming operational early in the New Year. Further information is available from Sheila on 01297 552847.

Guest Hazel Stapleforth entertained members with a display of sugar craft, illustrating how simple it is to ice individual cakes special designs.

Her flower work in the form of a poinsettia was particularly admired by members. Tricks of the trade were also imparted, demonstrating how everyday items can be used without resulting in expensive purchases of specialist equipment.

Hazel runs workshop at Groves Garden Centre, Bridport, on the second Tuesday of the month and invited ladies who were interested to go along on the day.

Members expressed gratitude for her coming along at such short notice. Her individual cupcakes were later raffled for club funds.

Tea and cake was followed by the business of the meeting, when the chairman informed members that £130 had been raised by Phoenix at the last meeting and donated to the emergency disaster fund following the devastation in the Philippines. The club is also continuing its support for Aita Kumari in Nepal, via Canon Claude Rosser and his wife Elizabeth. The annual grant helps towards the cost of her education and a letter has since been received from Aita keeping the club abreast of her progress.

At the end of the meeting, treasurer Julia Walter presented the chairman Lesley Frankau with a bouquet of flowers and a gift to celebrate her forthcoming birthday.

Something fishy

■ A PARTNERSHIP with Axe Vale Rivers Association, Westcountry Rivers Trust and East Devon Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty has seen a tank with one hundred salmon eggs installed at St Andrew's Primary School in Chardstock. The eggs are lying on gravel and will be cooled and aerated in the main classroom of the school for about a month. Children can watch the eggs hatch, and will subsequently help release them into their local river. They will also learn about how salmon migrate from rivers out into the Atlantic, feed at sea all the way from Norwegian waters to Greenland, then return as mature fish to breed at the headwaters of local rivers such as the Kit and Axe. Pictured above, John Hickey from Westcountry Rivers Trust and pupils from the Oak Class demonstrate the tank to staff and pupils.

New priest welcomed to Axmouth

AXMOUTH church was full to capacity on Thursday for the licensing of the Reverend Kate Woolven as Priest in Charge of the Uplyme and Axmouth Mission Community.

The Bishop of Crediton, the Right Reverend Nick McKinnel, led the service and the Archdeacon of Exeter, the Venerable Christopher Fitcher also took part.

For the past three and a half years, Kate has worked as an assistant priest in Kilmington, Shute, Stockland, Dalwood and Yarcombe, known as the Five Alive Mission Community. A coach full of former parishioners travelled to support her and she was also joined by clergy and readers from local churches.

In welcoming Kate to her new ministry, Bishop Nick also paid tribute to her predecessors, Gavin Tyte and Jeremy White, both of whom were present. In his sermon, the Bishop emphasised that parish ministry was very much a shared enterprise between clergy and people, all using their God-given gifts together.

There was a strong musical element to the service, with contributions from the combined Axmouth Community Choir, Uplyme Gospel Singers and the Uplyme Festival Choir, all directed by Adrian Pearson.

A reception followed in Axmouth Village Hall, giving an opportunity to meet Kate and her husband Jonathan.

George, commented: "It was a memorable service and a fitting way to welcome Kate and Jonathan. We look forward with great excitement to her ministry among us, as she seeks to communicate the love of Christ to all."

Castle Hill Tyres & Repairs opened at the beginning of November last year, and is owned by Kieran Homer. Currently, Kieran is the only member of the workforce, but in the future he hopes to expand. He is based at Castle Gate in Axminster. Head over Castle Hill and find him just over the railway crossing on the left.

Castle Hill Tyre and Repairs are able to provide a comprehensive range of services. This includes the ability to work on larger vehicles such as vans and 4x4's, with the use of a special outside ramp, which is capable of operating with vehicles of up to 4 tonnes in weight.

Kieran has been a mechanic for five years. He has gained experience by working for another local garage, and before that he worked for an agricultural engineering company in North Devon. Kieran qualified with a National Diploma in Agricultural Engineering after 3 years of training at Bicton College. Having been interested in cars since a young age, he chose this course as he got to work with a wider range of vehicles, such as tractors and 4x4's. During his course he also gained extra qualifications in welding and metal fabrication.

At Castle Hill Tyres & Repairs, Kieran offers a 24-hour recovery service – he is happy to help his customers in any way he can, even if it means a 3am telephone call for breakdown assistance!

Kieran says, "If someone wants something done, I'm happy to help. I'm up for a challenge and I don't like to turn work down."

He offers excellent customer service, is very organised and likes to please his customers in any way he can. If your car needs a costly repair done to fix it, Kieran will give your car a full inside and outside valet, free of charge.

For more information on the services Kieran can provide for you, call him today on 07850881530 and take a look at his facebook page www.facebook.com/castlehilltyresandrepairs.

With NIGEL SPELLER

DARELL Holmes from Kilminster opens this week:

"The idea of a cruise sounds lovely, if only it didn't involve seasickness! What's not to love about meeting fellow passengers, the luxury of others cooking, new experiences to have and new activities to try?"

"Well, now a cruise for senior citizens is soon to set sail with a guarantee of no seasickness! Kilminster Baptist Church is running its Holiday at Home event for the second year running, at Kilminster Village Hall on the theme of a Mediterranean cruise - February 21st to 23rd from 10am to 3.45pm.

"To book a place at under £10 for the three days including lunch, contact Jenny 01404 549370 or email jennifer-carte@aol.com."

Our recent mention of parish magazines has been followed by news that Exeter Diocese is to change from June onwards its monthly paper magazine "Church of England Devon", and instead provide parish magazine editors a download for their use locally. The diocesan website is also to be redesigned.

In recent days the churches at Axmouth and Uplyme have welcomed their new priest, the Reverend Kate Woolven, recently on the staff at Kilminster.

Exeter Diocese has just announced the formation of a new Parish of Lundy, in its own right, which will be responsible for important tasks, including fundraising for essential repair work. The Reverend Shirley Henderson from Hartland becomes priest in charge.

St Nicholas Church in Combe Raleigh has a Snowdrop Tea on Sunday, February 16th, 2pm to 4pm - do see the snowdrops.

Ottery St Mary parish church on Saturday, February 15th at 5pm has a service to celebrate marriage vows and support friends - interdenominational and for all. Still at Ottery, Groundbreakers for seven to 10 year olds meets during term time between 6pm and 7.30pm at the New Life Chapel on Friday evenings - all children are welcome. The youth group, for 11 to 18 year olds, also meets every Friday night at 7pm at the Old Boys School.

March 1st in the Institute, Ottery St Mary, sees a quiz night and hot supper in aid of the Melanesian School Partnerships. Entry costs £8 for adults or £5 for children to include quiz and supper. Details from Katie Drew on 01404 851491.

The Church of England General Synod meets in London for three days as we go to press. Their heavy agenda focuses on legislation mentioned before and it is hoped may resolve some major current issues. Word has come this week that many churches are struggling to pay insurance premiums due to increased premiums and our government is being urged to assist in this situation which affects our national heritage. The countries of the EU already offer such help.

The Church Times has embarked on a four-part look into the state of the CoFE, concluding with recommendations of what steps may be required. The first week covered churches and congregations, and next week follows with leadership and structures. While many have views of this it is worth remembering that the result will certainly not all be doom and gloom.

LINDA Isaacson is the library supervisor at Honiton Library.

She has worked in the town for 14 years and has held the supervisor's position since 2011.

A reading enthusiast, Linda has worked in bookshops or libraries for the last 30 years and celebrated National Libraries Day at Honiton Library on Saturday.

● HOW long have you lived in the area?

I actually live in Mid Devon - I have an hour-long car journey to get to work everyday so listen to lots of stories on audiobook, which I get from the library.

● WHAT do you like about the town?

Everyone is very friendly. There is always a lot going on here, which is great. I first saw it during a torrential rainstorm and felt there was a nice atmosphere here.

● WHERE else have you worked in the past?

I worked in Heffer's Children's Bookshop in Cambridge for 15 years before we moved down to Devon. Before that I worked in a pet and garden shop. Books are what I love though.

● WHAT is National Libraries Day all about?

National Libraries Day is a day to celebrate your local library and enjoy being part of the community. We are a part of the community that is open to everyone, no matter what age, gender or nationality and it's something that is still free for everyone to join. It is definitely something to shout about.

● WHAT facilities does the library offer that readers may not know about?

We have a monthly Bounce and Rhyme session for Mums and babies, our Friends group have a fund raising coffee morning on the first Friday of the month, and everyone is entitled to two hours free time on the computers. We can offer a bit of assistance but we are not experts! We do have free Wi-Fi now as well and we have DVD hire. The library service also has e-books and audiobooks online now.

● ARE there any plans for World Book Day in March?

I have applied again this year for the library to be book givers for World Book Night in April but we will not know if we have been accepted until the end of this month. We gave away 80 books last year to celebrate it. The idea is that you read the book and pass it on. Fingers crossed for this year.

Honiton library is 40 this year so with the help of the friends group we are trying to raise some money for some author visits and events later in the year.

● ARE you involved in any other community groups/projects?

I have just passed on the job of Fixtures Secretary for a cricket club after 10 years so I'm looking forward to lots of time for crafting, knitting, crocheting and reading!

● WHAT would you be doing if you weren't a librarian?

Probably still working in a bookshop. I was offered three jobs at the same time when I moved to Devon: Teaching Assistant in a primary school, Buyer for a bookshop or Senior Library Assistant and I chose the library.

Creative Solutions to getting noticed because attention is the sign of the times.

AS SUCCESS stories go, the rise of Creative Solutions is up there with the very best of them – with a 2,600% increase in business in a decade that has seen the Axminster-based experts in attention-getting soar to a catalogue of 13,000 clients.

BUSINESS PROFILE by Geoff Baker

'It amazes me to think of the number of businesses that we've helped in 10 years,' says print manager Ben Whittington, 'back then we had a portfolio of 500 clients, mainly churches and smaller local businesses.'

'And now...now we've got blue chip companies like Barclaycard, Pearson Education, Red Bull, Network Rail, the Royal Devon and Exeter Hospital, Bafta and Cambridge University among the customers whom we have helped to make happy.'

Creative Solutions are in the attention business; that key to the success of any company – key because in today's multiple-option marketplace catching the eye of a customer is what counts. As the old adage says, out of sight is out of mind – but because Creative Solutions are also the specialists in large format printing, your business banners could put you massively in the mind of your market.

'That's what it all boils down to in business; getting noticed, catching the eye,' says Ben. 'You can have the best product or service on the planet, but if nobody's noticing you, you won't sell it.'

Attention to detail

And this of course is why successful local businesses from River Cottage, Axminster Tools and Hix's Restaurants to Palmer's Brewery, Groves Nursery, Total Plumbing and Dorset Tea all turned to Creative Solutions when they needed to get noticed.

'If you'll excuse the pun, attention is the sign of the times,' says Ben.

'But more than that, it's a case of our attention to your detail. No matter how big or small the job our team can make you stand out. Because we use the latest technology and machines we can print onto pretty much anything you want, and as big as you want.'

A look through their website – www.creative-solutions-direct.co.uk – reveals a treasure trove of the endless ways to best promote yourself. Every conceivable option of all kinds of signage is expertly catered for – from their large format machines accommodating business interiors and exteriors, shop fronts, exhibition stands, banners, indoor/outdoor displays and advertising boards to business cards and stationary, pavement signs, leaflets, flyers, brochures – even graphics for your van or truck.

You name it, they can print for it – from design and production to installation in a one-stop shop.

In fact, so many sign systems and services are available that it is somewhat surprising that there's only eight of these young, vibrant minds behind the business which has become one of the UK's leading print and display specialists, and something of a feather in the cap of West Country enterprise.

'We're a rapidly-growing company but we like to keep the team tight because the familiar face, the personal touch gives us a first-name relationship with our customers. We're all very hands-on because that makes it easier to brain-storm solutions, which we do a lot,' said Ben.

Over in Lyme Regis the community has known the friendly bright sparks of Creative Solutions for many years. Ben and his operations manager brother Jedd, sales manager Chris Lenton and production manager Matt Coalter all live locally and became popular in Lyme long before their success caused the need for the company to recently expand to their purpose-built premises on Axminster's Millwey Rise Trading Estate.

'Now that we've got a new, bigger base we are able to offer an even larger selection of products and services at the same, or even better, prices and quality,' said Ben.

'There are all sorts of new ways with printing these days – for instance, we can print your wallpaper for your offices, or even for your home. Bring us your own design, or our designer will work with you, and we can print your own personalised wallpaper for any room in your house. We could even print you a new view to go in your garden.'

'As another instance, vehicle livery – what you say on your van – is an advertising opportunity that many businesses have yet to exploit to its fullest potential. We can help make your vehicle the eye-catcher on the road. We recently designed an especially attention-grabbing look for Lyme fishmonger Simon Bennett's Wet Fish Shop truck and now it's standing out in the traffic on his deliveries all over London.'

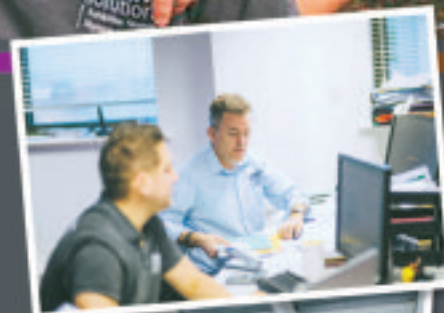

As Mr Bennett testifies, it's the 'quick, quality, keen and clever' thoroughness of Creative Solutions that makes you stand out in the crowd, and in business these days getting noticed is priority No 1.

'It's all about significance,' says Ben, 'when we sign off on a job your customers will sign on.'

For advice on how Creative Solutions can help signpost your business to new directions, go to www.creative-solutions-direct.co.uk and sign up for a new customer account that will entitle you to 10% off* your first order when you use the special code VF01.

*Offer runs until the end of March 2014.

"That's what it all boils down to in business; getting noticed, catching the eye, you can have the best product or service on the planet, but if nobody's noticing you, you won't sell it."

Why is Seaton the poor relation of other resorts?

■ WHY is a popular seaside town, midway between the thriving and popular resorts of Sidmouth and Lyme Regis a poor relation?

Some areas of Seaton are scruffy, there are few shops in the main streets, approaching the town you are faced with derelict sites, it's not very appealing. This contrasts with our neighbours. But why?

Could it be that Seaton has a reputation for being dogmatic and difficult when it comes to redevelopment? Yes, redevelopment on brown fields sites, not green wedges.

If the vampire bats on Seaton Heights are a show stopper or that affordable homes are a must on a prime marina site (which will never happen) then developers are going to go elsewhere. And they do.

Come on you planners, lighten up, relax, have some flexibility and encourage developers. Get out there and promote the town and welcome them in. Build on the eyesores. That way we also will have a desirable, thriving community, people will want to come to the town, our house prices will rise, the shops will be busy, the empty ones will be snapped up and even given a lick of paint. Happy days.

JOHN VIETH,
Court Lane, Seaton

Time to praise up Seaton

■ REFERRING to Mr Byrne Jones' super letter of last week (February 4th), praising up Seaton and quoting how good it was to get back after he's been away for a bit; congratulations to Mr Byrne Jones – such a shame more people cannot seem to praise up Seaton.

I have always liked the town. Yes, we did not all want Tesco's greedy shop to come here but I think that the independent shops are still open, still trading, still look good.

The seafront is very good. In particular, the planted up walls along the seafront road are beautiful.

Seaton is in a good position, not far from Dorset coast, or Honiton, or Axminster, it is a good holiday resort. The holiday camp will be missed but we must praise up and support this great East Devon town.

Rachel Mason this week put some good points about what needs to be done. But also, surely, we can be positive instead of knocking so much?

Stop the delay, act today!

■ AS the last tenant of the former Busy Bee building in Axminster, I have decided to put pen to paper.

We relocated almost eight years to South Street due to awful conditions within and outside the building. It was not safe to stay there due to it not being water-tight and the rear wall between us and the bank falling apart.

At the time the developer had openly discussed with us that when the Webster's site was developed, we would be able to move back into a new shop within the new development, which we were very happy to hear.

Obviously, over the last eight years the plans have kept altering and seem now at a standstill.

Axminster needs to have more diversification of shops as, at present, we have too many duplications, which does not keep people shopping here.

Personally, I think there should have been a time limit for the conservation objection, and to delay any possibility of making the town more presentable is beyond belief.

Our industrial estate is on the up but our town centre is desperately in need of a facelift – so stop the delay and act today!

The town used to shine, it certainly could again if given the chance.

ALISON AYSHFORD-HARRIS,
Owner, Busy Bee Florist, Axminster

Ditching EU will result in job losses

■ I WAS saddened to see in this week's edition of Pulman's View From Colyton (February 4th) that the local CermaTec factory is at risk of closure.

I later read the letter from Alec Yates of our local UKIP branch, discussing their policies relating to grammar schools.

I cannot help but think that job losses such as those which may unfortunately be seen at CeramTec (a German company) will be a thing of the future if UKIP and Conservatives continue to dominate the European debate in our region. David Cameron and Nigel Farage's threats to withdraw the UK from the EU surely give such companies no confidence in investing in our region, generating jobs and income for local people.

Ikea (a Swedish company) has recently announced the opening of a new store in Exeter and it would be great to see skilled job creation by other European companies at the new Science Park.

Our region is currently represented by six MEPs, five of which sit in the two most eurosceptic groups of the European Parliament. Sir Graham Watson is our only representative who is truly fighting to ensure that our region is taken seriously by European businesses.

So, further to Alec Yates' letter, it is great that we have a well-performing local grammar school. However, we really do need to ensure that they will have jobs to go into once they finish their education. A vote in the European elections for a eurosceptic party is not going to do that.

Children raise funds for Syrian refugees

■ IN Gittisham village there is a small drama group of children who performed a mummies play and raised £136.71 specifically for refugee children in Syria.

Along with the cheque, they sent me a decorated Christmas card, complete with a photograph of the children and both have been sent to the office in Southampton.

I am delighted to hear that our Middle East programme officer will be visiting Lebanon and Iraq and is taking the card with her to deliver to Syrian children.

I thought that a heart-warming story would be worthy of some space in your newspaper.

◆ IN A bid to raise £10,000 over two years for Water Survival Box, we are encouraging our readers and local organisations in East Devon, South Somerset and West Dorset – where we distribute in excess of 40,000 papers every week – to organise a fundraising event for the charity.

The Water Survival Box is crammed with all you need to stay alive after you have lost everything – cooking and eating utensils, basic means of shelter and other essential kit – but most importantly a water-purification pump that will make clean water from dirty water and provide a family of four with clean water every day for a year.

If you would like to organise an event, telephone James Coles on 01297 446155 and we will promote it in our columns. To make a donation, please make a cheque payable to 'Water Survival Box - View account' and send it to: James Coles, Water Survival Box campaign, View From Newspapers, Unit 3, St Michael's Business Centre, LYME REGIS, Dorset DT7 3DB.

Water for a green city

Chris Shirley-Smith

Pleased to support Anita's Underground challenge for

OBE for charity founder Hugo

TARGET
£10,000

ROTARIAN Hugo Pike has been awarded the OBE for his charity work with Worldwaterworks and their lifesaving Water Survival Box project.

Hugo, a member and past president of the Rotary Club of Chelwood Bridge, and director of Worldwaterworks, has been awarded the honour for 'Charitable Services in the UK and Abroad through the Rotary Club and Worldwaterworks Ltd.'

Hugo's said: 'I am delighted that Rotary and the Water Survival Box project has been recognised in this way.'

'This award is really, a tribute to all the trustees and our fellow Rotarians from Chelwood Bridge, who have given their time, physical effort and various talents towards the team effort. It also recognises the army of volunteers who work for the benefit of others in sympathy with the core principle of Rotary International which is 'Service above Self'.

It was Boxing Day 2004 when an earthquake off the coast of Sumatra, Indonesia triggered a tsunami in the Indian Ocean that hit coastal areas of countries from South East Asia to the Indian sub-continent and Africa.

It left 225,000 dead and millions homeless, without access to clean water.

Rotary was one of the organisations to which the public turned and through which donations in money and kind were made to be used for survivors.

For the next six months members of the Rotary Club of Chelwood Bridge in North East Somerset co-ordinated the Rotary response in District 1200 (Somerset, West Dorset and West Wiltshire).

'This award is a tribute to all the trustees and our fellow Rotarians from Chelwood Bridge.'

Rotarians worked with dozens of local volunteers to fund and then pack 3,200 boxes of aid comprising water-purification kits and other essential survival items which were then sent to help affected families. Hugo's role was as unofficial team leader.

The 'tsunami operation' was reviewed in detail against its primary objective – to protect survivors from water borne diseases.

CONGRATULATIONS | Rotarian Hugo Pike has been awarded the OBE for his work with Water Survival Box charity Worldwaterworks

This led to an appreciation that the process needed to be streamlined so that the aid reached the people in the quickest possible time.

In 2006 the Rotary Water Survival Box (WSB) was born – the water purification kit is the first priority and other essential items include a kitchen set, health and hygiene set, simple shelter and basic tools; other general household items with which to start to rebuild the family's life are also included.

Seven senior members of the Rotary Club of Chelwood Bridge formed Worldwaterworks which was then approved as a registered charity.

Hugo was appointed chairman by his fellow trustees and continued in that role until the end of 2011, when he became Director of Operations.

Seven-and-a-half years later the charity has converted more than £1 million in donations to some 8,600 WSBs that have been sent by air to 32 disasters in 21 countries from Japan in the Far East, through South East Asia, the Indian subcontinent, Africa, the Caribbean, to Central and South America.

Our most recent operation has resulted in a total of 800 WSBs being sent to the central Philippines following the devastation caused by Typhoon Haiyan.

The boxes have been distributed to families most in need by Humanity First (one of the charity's international aid partners) and Worldwaterworks is holding back a further 250 boxes earmarked for the Philippines pending an updated needs assessment.

Hugo retired as Assistant Chief Constable of Avon and Somerset Constabulary in 1995, at the end of a 37 year career in the police service.

He first joined Rotary as a member of the Bath West club in 1978; following a break due to work commitments, Hugo rejoined in 1990 as a member of the Chelwood Bridge club, where he served as president in 1997/98.

He was made a Paul Harris Fellow in 2005 and led a Rotary group study exchange visit to Indonesia in 2009.

Marriage Week UK 7th-14th February

MARRIAGE vows are the most long-term promises we ever make – to love and care for someone else for the rest of our lives! They are a commitment to put someone else's interests as equal to our own, and they involve setting aside our own short-term 'wants' for long-term stability and satisfaction.

The Square and Compass

The South Somerset Wedding Barn

THE BARN at the Square and Compass specialises in refined, elegant, very relaxing weddings. The whole day revolves around an exceptional good quality, generous meal, prepared and cooked in large, modern restaurant kitchens by a team of highly professional chefs, led by Janet, one of the owners.

The venue has hosted hundreds of very successful weddings and has gained a very good reputation, particularly in London. They can arrange the whole day completely or you can arrange parts of it yourself.

There is luxury, four-star accommodation on site, and plenty of space for parking and camping in the adjoining field.

The Barn is committed to making your day as perfect as possible at a sensible price. To book, call 01823 480467 or log on to www.southsomersetweddings.co.uk.

They are life changing – and have a huge impact on the way our lives work out. For those that make them they are 'the BIG Promise'.

Every year more than a quarter of a million couples across the UK signify their commitment to each other by getting married – they make, explicitly or implicitly, promises to each other that form the bedrock on which successful marriages are built.

And every year Marriage Week celebrates all those promises down the years, and seeks to encourage and support couples in their marriages.

In 2014 we plan that on 8th Feb, at 5.15pm, every couple in the UK will have the opportunity to reaffirm their Big promises to each other. We plan to draw attention to the BIG Promise by coordinating those venues that wish to, in setting a new Guinness World Record for couples reaffirming their vows.

That's what the BIG Promise is all about – celebrating, supporting, strengthening couples across the nation!

Marriage Week is supported by a group of charities and individuals who believe that healthy marriages bring benefits for all of society and should be encouraged and supported wherever possible. Marriage Week runs predominantly through local events put on by marriage champions and churches across the country. Please see the events page to see how you can get involved.

Marriage Week celebrates healthy marriages – the union of a man and a woman who make a permanent and exclusive commitment to each other, primarily though not exclusively, with the intent of procreation and the raising of children. We believe that this social institution, which has been enshrined in the history of civilization, provides vital inter-generational links and stability bringing benefits to all of society.

Forever with Love

Forever with Love wedding fair

LYNDSAY Jones of Forever With Love presents her first wedding fair at the Guildhall, West Street, Axminster, EX13 5NX on Sunday

16th of March at 11am till 3.30pm.

Lyndsay Jones an Axminster woman is a local wedding planner to Axminster and the East Devon area and knows that this area has a lot to offer in the wedding world. With most wedding fairs being held in Exeter, Taunton, Yeovil or further it can make it difficult to get to or even find out when there on.

Lyndsay owns the Bristol and Somerset wedding awards and the Dorset wedding awards, where she gets to know local suppliers as well as further afield. She also works with the wedding wishing well charity, which helps the terminally ill marry before it's too late. There is not an entry fee for the fair but a donation pot will be at the entrance for donations for this remarkable charity.

There will be a bridal show courtesy of La Boutique and many more wonderful suppliers and venues show casing the best of the local area.

Any suppliers who would like a stand can enquire by email or phone lyndsayannejones@hotmail.com or 07414660404.

Pulman's Property View

A true picture of the South West housing market

HEADLINES in the national media have recently reported a surge in mortgage lending and the demand for property, which has led to a shortage of homes for sale and rising property prices, but is this a true picture of the housing market in the South West?

Steve Moir, chairman of Property Sharing Experts, shares his view...

Steve said: "Property sales in the last quarter of 2013 certainly exceeded expectations – our office is traditionally closed on Christmas Eve and New Year's Eve but we were so busy, we opened and we sold houses on both of those days."

"There is clearly much more confidence in the market and with a rising number of buyers, demand is up. This can be attributed in part to the low interest rates and a greater availability of mortgages as well as realistic pricing, and people who had been holding off buying while the country was in recession and confidence was at a low, making the decision to move."

"Although the Government's Help to Buy scheme is clearly having a marked effect on the new homes market, it's not yet having the same impact on sales of 'second hand' property. However, it does seem to be prompting would-be first time buyers to think about getting on the ladder and is driving them to consider their options."

"In the last two or three months, supply hasn't matched demand and there is now a shortage of property on the market. The number of new instructions is on the rise, but it will take time for stock levels to improve dramatically, so anyone looking to sell this year would benefit from contacting an agent sooner rather than later, to take advantage of the relatively low amount of competition from other homes."

"As for prices... In the last quarter, the actual sale prices achieved have been much closer to asking prices, around 98%, which demonstrates a small rise. I do think prices will increase this year, driven partly by the current shortage of stock and the increase in demand as well as the improved levels of confidence in the market. However, I think there are barriers to the amount prices can rise in the South West – in particular, wages are limited and people aren't getting pay rises, which will hold back any significant increase in property prices to a sustainable and sensible level."

"The market was in the doldrums for a couple of years but now confidence has clearly increased and is continuing to do so, 2014 will mark a very positive turning point in the housing market. The only major cloud I can see on the horizon would be a rise in interest rates but I think the Bank of England recognises that this wouldn't be in anyone's best interests, at least in the foreseeable future."

FORTNAM

"So, all in all, yes, the national headlines do reflect the market in the South West, but perhaps to a less intense degree."

The Property Sharing Experts is the largest network of independent estate agents in the region, with nearly 80 member offices spanning 200 miles and more, from Penzance to Bristol and Weymouth. Harris Lets Limited acquires Strictly Business portfolio

THERE is an air of excitement within the local Lettings industry this week. Harris Lets Limited has been fortunate in acquiring the Strictly Business portfolio. This fits well with the Harris Lets core business strategy. The Harris family are landlords themselves and have developed a range of letting options and services that were not readily available elsewhere. This has proved a successful formula!

Strictly Business have let and managed property within the Axe Valley and beyond for nearly 30 years. Vicki Spence-Thomas will remain working with Harris Lets in a consultancy capacity bringing a wealth of experience to the table. Together with the staff has built a very good reputation with both Landlords and Tenants throughout

The Lettings industry has undergone so many changes over the years including the introduction of the Assured Short hold Tenancy back in 1988, professional Indemnity Insurance, client's money protection Insurance that many Letting Agents now have to pay.

Plenty of government legislation has been applied to the industry, all digested with the help of expert training and legal courses via the Association of Residential Letting Agents (ARLA) Mike Harris will continue to promote and encourage ARLA training, qualifications and membership. The excellent, ARLA trained staff will all remain and the office at 17 Cross Street in Seaton will be re branded.

The dedicated, personal service to both Landlords and Tenants will be maintained and once the integration of office systems is completed, some new and innovative services offered to clients.

The opening hours are extended from 9.00 a.m. to 5.00 p.m. and 10.00 a.m. to 12 noon on Saturdays. Improved out of hours viewings will also be available.

Our new web site is under construction together with wider marketing coverage. Our aim long term is to maintain and improve excellent customer service with an emphasis on further training qualifications to keep up to date with ongoing changes to the lettings industry.

SPOTLIGHT ON MY SERVICERachel Rendell
Healer and Psychic Medium

I am a psychic medium and run several development and meditation groups. I was attuned to Reiki and qualified as a Crystal healer in 2003. Connect with your loved ones in a private reading. My reading for you will bring precisely what is needed in your life right now. I link with my guides who bring through your friends or relatives in the spirit world. I give a clear reading helping you to become aware of the options and general direction you could take in your life.

When healing I work on all levels, physical & emotional alike, clearing blockages and re-aligning the Chakras. I work very much with my intuition as I believe that just like each and every one of us has our own unique energy, so crystals have their own.

The New Bmw X3

THE NEW BMW X3 reinforces the model's position as the class leader, with an unbeatable combination of driving dynamics, style, efficiency and practicality.

Thanks to BMW's new generation of TwinPower Turbo diesel engines, excellent performance is available across the entire range, and yet both fuel economy and CO2 emissions have seen further improvements with remarkable results. As an example of this engineering prowess the BMW X3 sDrive18d achieves a combined fuel consumption figure and CO2 emissions of 60.1mpg and 124g/km. Meanwhile, the opposite end of the range, the new xDrive35d can reach 152mph flat out and sprint to 62mph from rest in just 5.3 seconds, while still achieving over 47mpg.

The new BMW X3 can be identified by careful revisions to its expressive styling, new colours, and revisions to the interior design and trim options. All models now feature an increase in the amount of standard equipment, while customers can also choose a new xLine model to further personalise their X3.

Design and functionality

The new BMW X3 is immediately identifiable as a member of the successful BMW X family, and possesses a striking presence on the road. Aside from its length, which has grown by a single centimetre, it has the same compact, usable dimensions of its successful predecessor.

However, the new BMW X3 features a host of design changes. At the front end, new twin circular headlights – available in optional full LED specification along with optional LED front fog lamps – combine with the prominent BMW kidney grille and its new surround. Both the front and rear bumpers have gained new contours, while the LED indicators are now housed in the new exterior mirrors. Four new exterior paint shades and five new light-alloy wheel designs broaden the scope for individualisation.

Inside, the new BMW X3 remains a compelling proposition, with its carefully selected materials, understated chrome applications, a centre console with optional automatic climate control system (with high-gloss black panel) and wood panelling with pearl chrome highlights. New cupholders, with a sliding cover, can be found in the centre console, and a leather steering wheel is amongst the standard equipment. Customers can also choose from four new upholstery colours and four new interior trims. The new BMW X3 continues to lead the way in its segment in terms of both interior spaciousness and rear load capacity, offering 550 litres with the seats up and 1,600 litres with the seats folded.

New xLine joins SE and M Sport variants

The new BMW X3 is available in SE, xLine and M Sport trim levels. SE models already have an extensive standard equipment list including Nevada leather upholstery, two-zone air conditioning, Cruise control, DAB radio, Bluetooth and USB connectivity, 17-inch alloy wheels, front and rear PDC, Drive Performance Control, Rain sensor and automatic headlights. This has now been increased with the inclusion of the BMW Business navigation system, heated front seats and an automatic tailgate.

Moreover, an optional new SE Plus package adds Harman-kardon loudspeakers, Sun protection glass, Adaptive Headlights, High-beam Assistant and a one-inch increase in alloy wheel size for an additional £2,850.

The new xLine models can be identified from the outside by gleaming metallic inserts in the bumpers, Satin Aluminium side cladding and bars in the air intakes, simulated underguards at the front and rear and exclusive 18-inch alloy wheels. Inside, the new model features exclusive xLine leather upholstery, Dark Copper trim and a Sport leather steering wheel. Nevertheless, xLine variants command only a £1,500 price premium over the SE model.

For those customers looking to further boost the superb dynamic qualities of the new BMW X3 there is the M Sport variant. These models feature M aerodynamic styling and BMW Individual High-gloss Shadowline exterior trim to maximise the car's sporting presence, along with newly upgraded 19-inch light alloy wheels (previously 18-inch). Inside, there's a BMW Individual roof lining in Anthracite, Sport seats, M Sport leather steering wheel and Aluminium Hexagon trim; technical highlights include Performance Control and M Sport suspension. M Sport models carry a further £1,500 price premium over the xLine variants.

DVLA hoping to bring the house down with BA11 ETS Registration

DVLA Personalised Registrations' first live auction of 2014 will have a certain serenity about it, thanks to the elegant personalised registration BA11 ETS.

Following on from the theme, the three-day sale will also feature DA11 RCY – a perfect homage to the famed ballerina turned Strictly Come Dancing judge Darcy Bussell!

The registrations, which are listed with reserves of £900, are among 1,500 which will go under the hammer during the Agency's first live auction of 2014 which is being held at the Casa Hotel, Chesterfield, from Wednesday, February 26.

The sale, hot on the heels of DVLA Personalised Registrations' record-breaking online Timed Auction which raised £656,890, boasts a catalogue that includes an array of registrations reflecting first and surnames, initials, sports, business and car models.

Jody Davies, DVLA Personalised Registrations' Events Manager said: "BA11 ETS and DA11 RCY perfectly reflect the diversity of personalised registrations we regularly auction and our sale in Chesterfield will be no exception."

DVLA Personalised Registrations' forthcoming auction will consist of a total of 1,500 registrations, all chosen to offer a selection to suit all tastes, styles and budgets including: 7777 A (reserve - £3,000), AD11 ELE (€900), ASH 74G (€400), A57 ONV (€350), BEE 80P (€400), BRO 55S (€400), CO11 ETT (€900), COA 555T (€400), 110 CR (€2,500), C444 MPA (€400), 175 E (€2,800), EL13 NOR (€900), ELV 15H (€450), EMA 1V (€700), ESS 333X (€400), E55 EXX (€400), FER 550A (€400), F457 DAN (€400), 9999 G (€2,800), GRE 99G (€400), GTO 288S (€400), HA11 WAY (€900), HAY 80Y (€400), HES 81G (€400), HES 510W (€350), JEF 70Y (€400), KE13 THS (€900), KUW 441T (€400), K177 KAT (€350), L154 BMW (€400), MU12 REY (€900), NSX 10 (€450), 22 O (€4,000), PAR 15E (€450), POR 918X (€400), RAJ 805S (€450), SUS 53X (€400), TA12 ZAN (900) TEA 805S (€300), TH13 RRY (€900), TUR 80V (€450), VEG 444N (€400), WO12 LEY (€900), XKR 130Y (€350), X911 XXX (€400), Y51 EEP (€350).

New C-Class Saloon UK Pricing and specifications announced

THE NEW C-Class takes a step closer to its arrival in the UK today as prices and specifications are announced.

Available with a choice of two engines and three comprehensively specified model lines, prices for the new C-Class range start from £26,855 OTR. The first examples of the new C-Class are set to be delivered to customers in June.

At launch, a choice of a 1,991 cc, four-cylinder petrol engine and a 2,143 cc, four-cylinder diesel engine will be offered, each available with a choice of six-speed manual or seven-speed automatic gearboxes.

A further three engine variants - the C 200 BlueTEC, C 250 BlueTEC and C 300 BlueTEC HYBRID will follow during the course of the year.

Three model lines will make up the new C-Class range - SE, Sport and the AMG Line. Among the equipment highlights, the Sport model adds 17-inch alloy wheels (up from 16-inch on the SE), LED headlights, lowered comfort suspension, chrome exterior trim and Garmin® Map Pilot Navigation. The AMG Line adds 18-inch AMG wheels, AMG bodystyling and steering wheel, sports suspension and an Artico finish to the upper dashboard.

The new C-Class is set to be among the best-equipped cars in its class. Standard equipment fitted to every new C-Class will include an advanced and intuitive touchpad to control the entertainment functions via the centrally-mounted seven-inch colour display. Enhancing comfort, Artico upholstery will be fitted as standard along with two-zone air conditioning and a media interface located in the central storage between the front seats.

Practical technologies are also fitted as standard - with a reversing camera, rain sensing wipers, Attention Assist, Speedtronic cruise control, heated windscreen wiper washers, a tyre pressure monitoring system and Collision Prevention Assist Plus all appearing on the new C-Class.

The comfort and safety systems are joined by the Agility Select system - a rocker switch allowing the driver to choose between Comfort, Eco, Sport, Sport+ and Individual modes (the latter allowing a bespoke setup) each affecting the vehicle's behaviour. In Eco mode, for example, the car will be set-up to be as efficient as possible, lowering the shift point of the gear changes, softening the throttle response and even reducing power to the heated seats and rear window and the air conditioning system to focus on economy.

More rain, more disruption! Only Fenny beat the ongoing postponements

ROUND-UP
Up in the South-west Peninsula League Division One (east) there was a blanket list of postponements. Next weekend bottom-of-the-table Axminster Town are due to entertain fellow strugglers Plymstock United at Colyton Grammar School.

Sidmouth Town have an away day to look forward to – they head off to take on the Exeter University students.

DEVON & EXETER LEAGUE

BEER ALBION'S Furzebrake ground, one of the highest in the country, and notorious for being playable when other grounds are ruled out, failed to beat the hurricane winds blowing in from the English channel.

The Fishermen and visiting Premier opponents CLYST VALLEY could not even stand up straight in the teeth of the gale, and referee John Furness had no choice but to call the game off.

The Furzebrake surface was perfectly playable, but neither players or spectators could believe the ferocity of the wind and sought the sanctuary of the clubhouse.

Referee Furness postponed some time before kick-off which gave some of Beer's hardy followers the chance to make the half hour journey over to FENITON where their second team were playing a Division Five game.

In fact this turned out to be the only game played in the entire Fresha Devon & Exeter League.

Feniton won the match 3-0 with all three goals coming in the first-half.

Billy Parnell got Feniton off the mark, manager Richard Austin then blazed in a remarkable shot from an impossible angle, and Jamie Doidge completed the scoring with a penalty.

The latest postponements mean that only 47 teams out of the League's 126 membership have played a league or cup game in 2014.

Two teams - CREDITON RESERVES and TIVERTON TOWN RESERVES have been redundant since late November.

Tivvy were hopeful of playing their Graddon Vending Devon Premier cup quarter final against NEWTOWN after switching from Ladysmead to Morchard Bishop, but their pitch was also beaten by the weather. Instead they will now delay this match until a week on Saturday as their Conference team are at home this weekend.

Tiverton's Premier outfit, which has only managed eight league games this season, should get a game this weekend as they are away at Feniton.

The other bad news was that the three D & E sides BOW AAC, EXWICK VILLA and HONITON YOWN due to be in the Devon Senior Cup were also ruled out because of the weather and the area final of the Devon Intermediate cup between STARCROSS GENERALS and HENRYS CRONIES was postponed for the third time.

The Devon FA will appoint a ground for this game to be played this Saturday, in order to make headway.

League Secretary Chris Davey has had some response to his request for Premier and Senior teams summoned to a meeting next Monday to get their views on acquiring Step 7 status for Premier teams.

Mr Davey is still hoping for a 100 per cent attendance in order to inform clubs on the advantages of upgrading.

The meeting is on Monday, February 17th at the Fresha restaurant on the Sowton Industrial Estate.

Top threes for Lacetown

HONITON 'Lacetown' members were in action at last week's archery competition held in Brixham which featured clubs from all over Devon, Cornwall and Somerset.

The format was a Portsmouth round (five dozen arrows at 20 yards) followed by a head-to-head elimination for the top eight archers in each category.

The head-to-head matches are shot on a set system with the winner being the first archer to reach six points (two points for winning a set, one point for drawing the set).

If the score is tied after five sets at 5-5 then the match is decided by a single arrow tie-break, closest to the middle wins.

The Lacetown archers results in both the Portsmouth round and the head-to-head were: PORTSMOUTH SESSION 2 GENTS COMPOUND - Mark Cardy 3rd (60 hits, 29 Golds) 569.

LADIES COMPOUND - Wendy Broom 1st (60/39) 579.

JUNIOR GENTS RECURVE - Lewis Bailey 1st (60/5) 475.

Head-to-Head GENTS COMPOUND - Mark Cardy 4th (Set pts: 6, 4, 2).

LADIES COMPOUND - Wendy Broom 1st (Set pts: bye, 6, 6).

Classy Gwanako storms home

The South Dorset Hunt at Milborne St Andrew February 2nd

GWANAKO put up an "awesome" performance to win the recent South Dorset Ladies Open in a fast time under Megan Nicholls.

The 11-year-old led after a circuit before galloping further and further clear of his toiling rivals.

"He's been buzzing since he won at Larkhill three weeks ago but that was awesome," said Paul Nicholls' assistant head girl Rose Loxton, who trains Gwanako at her Bruton farm.

"The plan is to keep him pointing, probably at the Blackmore & Sparkford Vale (on March 9th) and then possibly go for the 2m-5f race at the Cheltenham hunter chase evening."

Richard and Tina Dunsford's Certain Flight will go hunter chasing after taking the Bonhams Men's Open in facile fashion under Will Biddick, who never moved a muscle throughout the contest.

"He just gets better and better," said Janet Cummings, whose husband Keith completed an across the card double with Thetalkinghorse at Black Forest Lodge.

"He'll probably make his hunter chase debut at Taunton and if all goes well there, we'll start to dream."

Aces Or Better's Hunt race win was a family success, as the horse was ridden by 21-year-old University College London medical student George Bingham and is owned by his parents George and Sarah and grandmother Sue Maxse.

"We sent the horse to Jenny Gordon seven weeks ago after Sarah was knocked over by a horse in our yard and I broke my pelvis out hunting," smiled George senior, clearly pleased with the family's change of fortune.

Mangans Turn's Maiden race win delighted owner Bill Dupont. Partnered by his trainer Jack Barber, Mangans Turn stormed clear up the hill after leader Sutton Storm (Will Biddick) had blundered when holding a marginal lead at the last.

Peter Mason, who had produced Shy John late to take Wincanton's Stewart Tory Memorial Hunter Chase 72 hours earlier, adopted similar holdup tactics aboard Martin Rice's Restricted winner You Too Pet.

"He's green and quirky and has to be held up like Shy John, as he doesn't do much in front, but he's growing up fast," reported Peter's wife, Nif.

Two Welsh competitors registered their first-ever wins at the meeting.

Pyle, near Bridgend, trainer Gareth Moore got off the mark - at the fourth attempt - when Castle Beach led at the last in the 2m-4f Maiden.

The win also provided the perfect return for 27-year-old jockey Barry Denvir after an 18-month absence following an injury sustained while playing football.

Multiple pony race winner Sean Bowen, 16-year-old son of licensed trainer Peter Bowen and his wife Karen, opened his pointing account in confident style aboard David Brace's Dunraven Prince in the Novice Riders' race.

Sean, who hit the headlines when he and his younger brother James took the two finals of the Charles Owen Pony Racing Series at York in September, had already made the perfect start under Rules when winning a Utttoxeter hurdle race in December.

Gunners target Billy

LOCAL school boy Billy Knox has been invited to attend the Arsenal Soccer Schools Elite Training Centre based in Taunton.

Billy, who attends All Saints Primary School had been training weekly at the Arsenal Soccer Schools Development Training Centre in Exeter on Thursday evenings.

Adam Hayman the Devon Coordinator for Arsenal Soccer Schools said: "Billy's attitude to training has been fantastic. Because of this he has developed his skills very quickly through our coaching and deserves the opportunity to play at a more advanced level."

"We first spotted Billy when he attended a 'Bring-a-Buddy' week at Musbury Primary afterschool club."

"It is great to see local lads in small towns and villages being noticed and I am very proud to be able to offer these opportunities. It justifies our decision to reach out to all areas of Devon."

The Arsenal Soccer Schools Elite Training Centre squad play in the Junior Premier League (www.junior-premier.co.uk) alongside other professional Development Training Centres such as Reading FC and West Bromwich Albion.

Billy will still be eligible to play for his local club and school football team which is something both Billy and his family are pleased with.

Mark Titchard the Devon Manager said: "It is so important for a child aged 10 years old to still play football with his friends at school and his local club."

"Once the players reach the age of 14+ then they can begin to make their own choices as to who they want to play for."

"It is great to offer these kids such high standards of additional coaching on a weekly basis and opportunities to play competitive matches against some of the most talented children their age in the country."

"We are currently working within over 80 primary schools across Devon, providing extracurricular activities along with supporting them with the delivery of Physical Education."

"We have 7 Mini Gunners programmes (4-6 year olds), 4 Progression Training Centres (7-12 year olds), 5 Development Training Centres (7-14 year olds) and have sustained many links with grassroots football clubs and other key bodies across the county."

"We will continue to grow and provide opportunities for children of all abilities and ages to participate in professional and structured coaching."

"But its not all just about Football, we have a very diverse team with a range of qualifications, many of our staff our trained to teach Physical Education at Primary and Secondary level."

Billy is said to be delighted with the news and has also requested he continues training at his local Exeter Development Training Centre as well.

Billy's father, Pete Knox, added: "We are really pleased for Billy. He is only 10 so it's a great achievement and it's nice to see him do well in something that he loves doing."

Musbury Primary School acting Head teacher John Montgomery added: "As a school community we are very proud of his achievement."

"The self-confidence Billy has gained from his sporting successes have also made the crossover into the classroom with an improved focus in his learning."

"From my personal perspective the only down side is he has signed for Arsenal rather than West Ham!"

Next up will be Arsenal Soccer Schools February Half term courses across Devon at just £2.50 for a full days coaching (10am - 3pm).

To get your son/daughter, school or college involved within an Arsenal Soccer Schools programme or for more information on their initiatives in your local community please contact devon@playthearsenalway.com or visit www.playthearsenalway.com/southwest

IT was a dark and stormy night for last week's February club handicap races, but that did not deter the 17 juniors and 29 seniors who took part in the runs.

The conditions dictated that even in the Junior races PB's would be hard to come by. Caleb Sinclair however smashed his own best time, winning the Junior race in 15:59 and 2nd placed Mia Bartlett also broke her PB by 21 seconds with a 14:30 finish. Ollie Cauter was 3rd, 21:11; Iain Ross 4th, 12:35 and Bobby Simpson 5th, 12:32.

Mia Bartlett leads the junior rankings with 41 points, Bobby Simpson and Ethan Day are joint 2nd with 35 points.

In the longer Senior race there were several quick not qualifying runners, so the actual winners was Amie Sibley in 25:55 with Kay D'Albertanson 2nd, 31:15; Richard Hale 3rd, 27:16; Chris Hill 4th, 28:08 and Steve Maclure 5th, 27:37.

Amie Sibley leads the rankings with 41 points, followed by Steve Maclure 38 and Richard Hale 37.

Special thanks to the timekeepers and marshals for being out in such horrible conditions.

The weather was good for the Men's Section on Sunday for the February Medal.

The Division One winner was Chris Glover with a Nett 70 and in 2nd was Anthony Hellier with Nett 71.

The Division 2 winner was Mike Rymer (on count back) Nett 69 from Simon Sweetland in 2nd spot.
